I let that thing in because it would serve well as practice for Master.
but I didn't expect it to be so disgusting ...
Sorry, can you let me down?
You won't be able to help him if you're holding me...
I wouldn't say Master needs any help at the moment.
Huh... So just who is that lad?
While it's not inscribed yet,
that weapon was forged by an elder dwarf, yet it wasn't enough to hurt that thing.
but his short sword chopped up the black spider's legs. As sharp as it may be, that's just...
I knew you weren't just any old dwarf!
So you're actually an elder dwarf?
...Well, yes.

Hm? I'm Shin.
What's so convenient?
I'm asking who you two are!
It was well worth my time to save you!
That's incredibly convenient.
... Huh?
No, I mean that I am that invincible dragon.
Shin? That's the same name as the invincible dragon that's rumored to reside in the waste-land.
Why the hell are they just casually chatting over there?
A contract?! If you're in that form...
Did that human really manage to form such a great contract?!
WHAT?!
I formed a contract with my Master, who is fighting over there,
so I now look like this.

Just look over there.

There's a reason I've been calling him "Master" all this time.
Piercing flames, myriads of spears.

This... Must be... A dream...

Hm? So you're the child in a "parent and child" contract?
have you not noticed that I call him "master"?
What a foolish spider you are.
You mentioned earlier that you want to be together with him
Well, there's no need to fixate on that
A servant? But you're a dragon

A contra contract
A human form
You mean
What do you th nk of a re at on sh p ke th s?

It wou d be a s mp e matter for master to form contracts w th both of us.

So be it,

No, I'll take that role.
Of course.
I'll begin the ritual.

Red... The sign of a "control" contract.
No, Master has a bit more mana now than back then.

That's right, I passed out after fighting the black spider.
Huh? My wounds have closed?
I seem to be alive...
What happened after that?
I thank you for the meal earlier.
